SABLE ISLAND EXPEDITION

“300 kilometres off the coast of Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada and at the edge of the continental shelf lies a lonely bar of sand shaped by wind and ocean currents. It is a terminal moraine pushed by glaciers 10,000 years ago that is home to over 500 wild horses and the largest grey colony in the world, nearing 300,000. Far away from any modern amenities and services, in the exposed open Atlantic Ocean with the Gulf Stream and Labrador currents nearby, this is the wild of the wild, so remote and extreme, yet positively beautiful and gentle. This Expedition is for those who seek wild reality and remoteness, to be immersed in an environment that functions entirely on its own and to visit it with just a handful of others. It is a place unlike any other in the world.”

-Fred Stillman, Expedition Leader

CAPE BRETON HIGHLANDS BY AIR & SEA EXPEDITION

A soaring journey over one of Nova Scotia's most awe-inspiring regions, this full-day Expedition reveals the raw beauty and ecological richness of the Cape Breton Highlands, from both sky and sea.

This rare perspective — where wild landscapes meet untamed ocean — offers a deeply personal encounter with the elements. More than a sightseeing tour, it is an immersion in place: a condensed, yet unforgettable exploration of Cape Breton's coastal grandeur, made possible in a single day.

Departing from Halifax, the aerial portion offers a dramatic introduction to Cape Breton’s most iconic landscapes — Cape George, the Mabou Highlands, and the world-famous Cabot Trail.

Upon landing, guests transition to the water aboard a private zodiac to explore remote fjords, sea caves, and protected coves. The tour is guided by an expert naturalist and offers opportunities to encounter humpback whales, grey seals, and a wide array of seabirds up close.

Enjoy a beautifully curated lunch featuring seasonal local ingredients, served in a scenic coastal location — a thoughtful pause in the day’s adventure.

Throughout the Expedition, our guides share insights into Cape Breton’s unique geology, wildlife, and cultural history.

Muir provides private vehicle transfers between Muir and the helicopter terminal.

Cape Breton Highlands By Land & Sea Expeditions are available from June to October. For information on availability and pricing, please contact: information@muirhotel.com | 902.407.6847 / 1.833.888.1011

The tour spotlights the region's unique terroir — where the world's highest tides naturally aerate the soil to cultivate crisp white wines. A highlight is an intimate wine tasting, complete with fresh oysters, led by a local winemaker. The Experience concludes with an exploration of unique small-batch experimental wines, and a local lunch set against scenic vistas.
